✔ Hit every daily scrum meeting with a dose of insights. As you run through your board, see how your sprint's tracking to understand the likelihood of completion.

Understand exactly how your sprint's progressing across each status category, making it easier for you and your team to pivot, set expectations, or see work through.

To find the Sprint progress insight, select the Insight toggle in the upper left of your board.

The bar is split by the number of story points, issues, or time assigned to each status category. If your project has story points enabled, the progress bar will update when points are added to each issue.

So, at a glance, you can understand the portion
